Music for All

Welcome back

ONLY at the 2022 Music for All Summer Symposium, presented by Yamaha, will you experience the most-intensive, non-stop, make-you-better approach to marching band musicianship, marching performance excellence, and student leadership development.

This leading summer camp for high school band students and high school and middle school band directors and instructors is back with a re-invented outdoor focus for 2022.

LEADERSHIP • DRUM MAJORS
MARCHING BAND • PERCUSSION COLOR GUARD • DIRECTORS

Every student, in every division, gains interactive leadership-based learning designed to develop better leaders and smarter followers—both in band and in life.

We offer a safe campus experience for students, with small group time, student care, supervision, and guidance by our “SWAG Team” of educators, professionals, and collegiate camp counselors who are selected via a stringent application process.

Drum Corps International’s World-Class Carolina Crown serves as our drum corps-in-residence. Every student and every director will experience first-hand the instructional excellence and inspirational impact immersed side-by-side and even “inside the circle” with these talented performers, designers, and teachers.

Live concerts, performances, and clinics every night, including the DCI Central Indiana show on July 1, 2022.

Our Directors’ Academy connects music educators with the best in the business. Sharing and learning to teach the WHY, WHAT, HOW, and WHEN developmentally-appropriate excellence can be achieved with your students at their level—no matter what that level might be.

The Music for All Summer Symposium is a member of the American Camp Association.

Visit camp.musicforall.org for details on each division, evening concerts, and registration information.

ATTENTION DIRECTORS!
Bring 6 students with you and your tuition is free!
